PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE | October 2022

First and foremost, our October meeting will not be held on the third Thursday this month due to orchid show preparations that Thursday evening. Our meeting will be held Thursday October 13. Beginners corner will start at 6:30pm and the meeting at 7:00pm. The meeting will be at Franklin Park Conservatory. We will be in-person and on Zoom. Please bring your blooming orchids for our show table.

Our first show in several years is rapidly approaching! Our show will be held Saturday and Sunday October 22 and 23 at the Polaris Mall. Our set up will be Thursday and Friday evening after the mall has closed. Please look at the sign-up link Tom sent out via email. We cannot put this show together without everyone's help! During the meeting, Tom will be explaining many of the details, entrances to use, set up procedures etc. We will also talk during the meeting about our society's table at the show and the need for blooming orchids.

Tom also sent the link for Society 6 and Redbubble and shirts that are available. It would be great if everyone who will be volunteering during the show could purchase one as soon as possible so you can be easily recognized. Wendy did a great job with the graphics!

Thank you to everyone who attended the cookout last month. It was an honor to host, the food was great as was the company.

We would like to hear about what type classes, special interests, information about orchids you would like to know about, demonstrations you would like to have in the future. Please email me or anyone on the board.

Society Meeting

October 13, 2022

6:30pm Beginner's Corner

7:00pm Meeting Begins

Franklin Park Conservatory

+ Virtual

WHERE: Education Pavilion at Franklin Park Conservatory

WHEN: Oct 13th -- 6:30 PM Eastern Time (US and Canada)

Fred Bess got his start growing orchids from an early age, thanks to his grandmother. By trade, he is a certified arborist and horticulturist. In addition to Disa growing, Fred has a passion for the rare, hard to grow, and weird! His collection includes such things as Dendrophylax (the Ghost Orchid), a nice collection of other southern Hemisphere terrestrial species, carnivorous plants, and one of the world's most endangered conifers, Torreya taxifolia. All his plants and the conifers are found at his suburban Cleveland home. Fred is also a lover of dogs.

SEPTEMBER PLANT OF THE MONTH

Lc. Pharos 'Dark Beauty'

Grown by Anne O'Connell

Congratulations to Anne for growing this amazing Cattleya hybrid orchid! These plants enjoy bright light and plenty of water and fertilizer during the summer growing season. They do well in a Central Ohio yard or covered porch, where there is plenty of light and humidity. They can take full sun in summer, but must be acclimated in partial shade. In fall and winter, they do well indoors in a western exposure or under LED lighting.

Announcing the first

The discovery of a native orchid in the wild can be exhilarating. This is your chance to SHARE the JOY!

Photographers and wildflower enthusiasts are invited to submit favorite native orchid images to the Native Orchid Conference. Our objective is to encourage a larger audience to appreciate these natural treasures and to join us in our effort to preserve them and their habitat. Many of your photos will be published in a dedicated edition of the Native Orchid Conference Journal. Please join us and share your joy.

Eligibility - anyone may participate; Adult or Youth (grade 12 or lower when photo was taken)

Timing - submissions accepted immediately through November 15, 2022

How to submit - email up to 3 images to nocphotos2022@gmail.com

Entry criteria -

- Image must be of native orchids (species or natural hybrids) in their natural habitat
- Image may be a single flower, a full or partial inflorescence, multiple plants, a habitat overview (orchids must be discernable) or a close-up of flower features
- Image must have been taken in the US or Canada
- Do not include props or artificial backgrounds
- Include photographer's name, contact info, name of orchid(s), identify the image & specify if Adult or Youth
- Delete metadata or any reference to specific location of plants
- If image was previously published, provide details
- Only basic adjustments permitted (flowers should appear as they did when seen in nature)

Selection for publication - entries will be evaluated based on adherence to the above criteria, composition & esthetics, proper plant ID, and educational or conservation relevance.

Recognition - selected entries will be featured in an exclusive edition of the Native Orchid Conference Journal. Images remain the property of the photographer who retains copyright privileges. Photographers will be contacted and given an opportunity to provide anecdotal information about their entries which will be included in the Journal.

Special Award - three entries from each age group will earn the photographers a one year, free membership in the Native Orchid Conference.
