February Meeting

Speaker – Jan Yates

Topic: “Orchid Conservation”

Thursday, February 15th at Franklin Park Conservatory

Beginner’s Corner 7:30pm – Meeting starts at 8pm

For our February meeting, Jan Yates will speak on the important topic of Orchid Conservation. Please come to learn about efforts to ensure these endangered treasures are around for generations to come!

Jan Yates is an accredited AOS judge and past chair of the Cincinnati Judging Center. She has been growing orchids off and on since 1976; currently she has about 200 plants under lights in her basement. The orchids summer outside in a lath house. About 20 years ago, Jan started helping other Greater Cincinnati Orchid Society members setting up exhibits. Her interest in going to regional orchid shows gradually expanded and eventually she decided to become an American Orchid Society judge.

Jan is active in her local society, setting up exhibits, doing an occasional program and going on hikes in the region looking at orchids in the wild, or as wild as it gets here in the Midwest! Now that Jan is retired, she is trying to expand that last activity, hiking with friends she has made from GCOS and other fellow orchid lovers.

Note: Due to Jan’s travel, we will not have a speaker’s dinner. We will have a member’s plant sale (reminder, 20% of all proceeds due to our treasurer).

President’s Message

Happy February! We had an informative meeting in January and I hope you all had fun and learned some new orchid growing tips. We more great programs planned for this year! Some great vendors will also be coming to speak, which is a great way to pick up rare and special orchids!

In my January president’s message, I talked about our four goals for this year: improving communication, executing our business efficiently, allowing you to volunteer and participate in the way you prefer, and setting our society up for future success through mentoring and teaching. For the next couple months I want to talk about the last two—participation and teaching/mentoring.

Did you know that our society’s success doesn’t just affect us, it impacts other societies and even the AOS, the American Orchid Society. Our society is part of an inter-connected orchid community made up of growers, societies, judges, and vendors.

- 1) Growers and societies host orchid shows for their local community*
- 2) Neighboring societies attend and display plants in each other’s shows*
- 3) Shows are AOS-sanctioned venues for judging*
- 4) Judging fees support the AOS*
- 5) And finally, growers apprentice to become new judges*

So what does this all mean to you? It means that when you participate in these activities (such as #2, setting up displays at other society's shows), you are taking part in the broader orchid community! This also means we need your help! As Ken Mettler mentioned at our recent meeting we have some upcoming shows and need volunteers to set up. Ken will help you through every step—it's easy! Please talk with him at our February meeting to let him know you can help.

Finally, a special THANK YOU to everyone who has volunteered at the Orchid Sundays event at Franklin Park Conservatory!
